

As the Pacific Northwest's newest science fiction and fantasy convention, Foolscape is small but growing. As our mission and goals attest, we're ambitious, but we're also realistic. Our membership is running about 160 as of 2007, and growing by about 10% per year.

In view of our size, we try to keep our dealers' room rates very reasonable. We emphasize supporting our dealers, including free advertising in the program book and links on our website.

We hope you'll choose to join us in September

See you in September!

about foolscap

Foolscap was founded in 1999.

Our mission is to hold a medium-sized convention emphasizing paper media - books, comic books, and art.

Our goals include creating an intellectually stimulating convention, providing an environment conducive to the conducting of business by industry professionals, strengthening the links among the various groups of fans in the Pacific Northwest, and making an arena for people to discover science fiction, fantasy, and convention fandom.

our Guests of Honor

Foolscap's Guests have included Paul Chadwick (Concrete), Octavia Butler (Parable of the Talents), Frederik Pohl (editor/author), Ginjer Buchanan (editor, Ace Books), Phil and Kaja Foglio (Girl Genius), Robin Hobbs (the Madship trilogy), Rick Berry (artist), Greg Bear (Eon), Sergio Aragones (Groo), Barbara Hambly (Dragonstar), George R. R. Martin (Song of Fire and Ice), Raven Mimura (artist), Gabe and Tycho (Mike Krahuliik and Jerry Holkins of Penny Arcade), Harlan Ellison, C. J. Cherryh, Mark Ferrari, Charles de Lint, Charles Vess, and Esther Friesner.

We are proud to welcome Peter David and Jeff Sturgeon as Foolscap XI's Guest of Honor.
